

THE 10th INTERNATIONAL
SUMMER SCHOOL
FOR YOUNG PROFESSIONALS
CHALLENGES OF GLOBAL SECURITY ENVIRONMENT

Centre for European and North Atlantic Affairs (CENAA) together with partners Armed Forces Academy of General M. R. Štefánik in Liptovský Mikuláš, Slovakia, NATO PDD, Ministry of Defense, Ministry of European and Foreign Affairs of the Slovak Republic as well as the Embassy of United States of America is organizing the following educational event:

Summer school for young professionals 2015

Challenges of Global Security Environment

20 June – 27 June 2015

Armed Forces Academy of General M. R. Štefánik

Liptovský Mikuláš, Slovakia

If you are a master or doctoral level student of political science and/or international relations, who is interested in the foreign and security policy issues, then we would like to invite YOU to join other students from Central Europe (V4), South Eastern Europe (Western Balkans), Ukraine and South Caucasus in an interactive weeklong forum focused on the current issues of the security policy.

You can enjoy the environment of the Armed Forces Academy in Liptovský Mikuláš, located between the beautiful High and Low Tatras. The structure of the teaching at the summer school is aimed to provide you with the basics of the security policy background, and overview of the current security issues such as Ukrainian Crisis, ISIS, NATO after Wales Summit and many more.

One of the main objectives of this international summer school is the preparation of young professionals – future leaders from mentioned regions – to act in the foreign and security policy. Interactive discussions and lectures led by top speakers from various international and Slovak organizations will therefore focus on an open exchange of ideas and interaction of participants from different backgrounds. There will be many side activities besides the classroom lectures and discussions – dynamic workshop, trip to nearby High Tatras and city of Liptovský Mikuláš, Receptions, Airbase in Sliač and others.

The teaching language of the summer school is English. At the end of the school, you will receive certificate of course attendance issued by the Armed Forces Academy.

The Summer school for young professionals will challenge you in many ways, test your leadership skills and expose you to cross-cultural experiences. We hope the summer school will be an educational experience you will never forget!
